which manages Outline Ireland (sales and rental) equipped all the live stages for the opening celebrations for Cork City of Culture 2005, which attracted an audience of over 80,000 to Irelands' second City. Tony Healey reports, "We have been working with Outline for the last couple of years and in fact have just significantly increased our inventory, which enabled us to supply all the main performance areas around Patrick Street." Healy notes that his inventory now includes 8 of Outline HARD 212 stage monitors: "TV cameras just love them as they make long shots acceptable when stage fold-back has to be seen, and at only 26kg each and 26cm high, also makes them crew friendly."

company Nuovo Service chose a pair of Outline Micra II SPs for Andrea Bocelli's monitoring during the press conference held after a showcase to present the singer's latest CD, Andrea. The event was staged in the Tuscan tenor's home in Versilta. Outline said: "The Micra II SP is a compact enclosure which, thanks to its SPL/feedback ratio has gained itself a great reputation in TV studios and on tours by ie of Italy's top artistsJI
